LETTERS

Since October 1979, I've learned from and grown with the Folio. Single-handedly sometimes, cooperatively sometimes, and with no choice many times. Since I've been here the station has had 2 News Directors, 3 Program Directors and 3 Station Managers. I've watched from the sidelines the tensions, the attitudes, the concern, the wierdos come and go through the station. At some point the internal (individual) egos must calm down for the greater struggle—although believing in yourself is a fundamental necessity in New York.

Our newest Station Manager and Program Director have already begun to put substance into programming and credibility for our creditors—much as the last Station Manager tried. But the spirit of teamwork and encouragment must grow. Change is imminent (sometimes mislabled "progress"), but cooperation with one another, listening to one another, and a clear direction are more important when all are working for the same goal—keeping BAI active. And sometimes sticking with what you have, working with it, and having faith in it is all you need (except a little courage).

I am happy to have been though BAI. I am better for it as any Marathon Volunteer or Producer can tell you. And although so many of us come and go, it doesn't mean that we care less, or that we have failed. Many times we need to go on to other things and then come back. Sometimes we cannot afford to stay. (And it is so sad that those who work here somehow must be able to afford to. In that sense we are perpetuating the same societal evil that in some instances we fight).

Many, many wonderful beings have given their time and energy to the Folio. (Those people, I'm sure, will give time to the new Folio editor.) But many others are needed with skills and access. I hope that the spirit of working together (Producers, Department Heads, Volunteers, etc.) for a better Folio will continue.

SPEAKERS' BUREAU

IN* FORMATION

The BAI staff and producers are ready to address your group or organization on specific topics and issues of current social and political concern. We are a rich resource of information, ideas and insights.

Invite us to your organization's program and we will discuss some of the latest developments on the stage of personal and societal change, drawing from our special experience and knowledge.

We will send individuals or teams to speak on these issues. Presentations are made as lectures, forums or in workshop format.

See who we are. Learn how your station functions and why we must continue.

The BAI Community is a continuing idea of concern for information:
—to increase our awareness of the events of our times
—to improve our active relation to these events and to each other
—to be able to act with the knowledge of a fuller spectrum of facts and perspectives
—to be moved to effect change.

PACIFICA REPORTS

by

PETER FRANCK

Once a year the Pacifica Foundation Board meets to adopt annual budgets for our five stations and for Pacifica's National Operations. Meeting in Los Angeles on the weekend of September 14 and 15, the Board approved a system-wide budget of $2.2 million dollars. This sum pays the cost of operating the five Pacifica stations; our National Office; the Pacifica National News Service; the Pacifica Program Service; and related support services. The money is raised primarily from listeners and the community.

A budget is simply a fiscal plan; it is a sort of road map, showing where an organization plans to go with its money. There is much more that Pacifica wants and plans to do, but a look at our spending plan for the coming year will give some idea of our commitments and priorities.

Table I shows the budgets of the five stations. They range from slightly over $600,000 at KPFA (Northern California) to about $165,000 at KPFT (Houston). The table also shows, in percentage terms, how the money is spent. "Salaries" is, of course, the cost of paid staff. (Always a minority of the people who actually work at and program the stations.)

"Fixed Expenses" are the non-people costs, such as rent, tape, electricity, phone, news services, and so on. "National Pacifica" refers to each station's support of the cost of our national services.

Table II shows Pacifica's national budget of $380,800. Of this amount, 76% or $290,400 is raised by the stations. The balance comes from sale of Pacifica programs and news stories to non-Pacifica stations.

Of this national budget, 34% ($129,000) goes to support the Pacifica National Office. Led by the Executive Director and the Controller, the National Office provides and coordinates support services such as accounting and data processing. It facilitates training, exchange of staff among the stations and relations with government agencies such as the Corporation for Public Broadcasting. The Executive Director and the Controller help the stations with budget preparation and analysis of station financial resources. The Executive Director oversees the operations of the News and Program Services. The office also provides support services to the Pacifica Board.

Twenty-four percent ($91,400) is allocated to the Pacifica National News Service. The News Service provides up to five national and international news stories a day to our stations and to other subscribers. You can recognize them by the familiar tag at the end of a story: " . . . for Pacifica in Washington, this is . . . ." Working from the National Press Building in Washington, the News Service is our listening post on the world.

Our other national service is the Pacifica Program Service and Tape Library (PPS). Supported by 17% of our national budget ($65,000), PPS is responsible for the exchange of programs among the Pacifica stations and it makes our programs and archives available to other radio stations, to schools, colleges and libraries.

A look at Table I shows that KPFT in Houston is operating on a shoestring. From Table II, one sees that the national organization is, in fact, paying KPFT's deficit. Pacifica is making a major drive this year to put KPFT on its feet and to bring it up to the size and strength of our other stations.

Seen as a whole, the budget shows that nationally Pacifica serves to coordinate and support the administrative work of the stations; to pool our resources in order to revitalize a station in trouble; to exchange news and other programs within Pacifica (and to make them available to others); and finally, to relate to government and outside agencies.

| Station | Station Budgets | Salaries | Fixed Expenses | National Pacifica | Old Debt | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| KPFA No. Cal. | $601,000 | 48% | 36% | 15% | 1% | 100% |
| KPFK So. Cal. | $535,000 | 49% | 34% | 18% | – | 100% |
| WBAI N.Y. | $515,000 | 35% | 50% | 16% | – | 100% |
| WPFW Wash. DC | $352,000 | 35% | 59% | 6% | – | 100% |
| KPFT Hou. Tex. | $165,000 | 19% | 63% | – | 18% | 100% |

Folk music presented by Edward Haber, today featuring Jolyon Jackson. Jolyon Jackson is an Irish composer (he has written the music to various Irish films and commercials) and multi-instrumentalist. Recently he has become involved with the Irish folk scene, and several months ago he released a duo album with Irish traditional fiddler Paddy Glackin—Paddy supplied the fiddle, while Jolyon played a virtual plethora of instruments, including synthesisers, harmonicas, cello, mandolin, and dobro—all recorded at Jolyon's home studio. This program features an interview with Jolyon Jackson as well as selections from his film music and from his album with Paddy Glackin, Hidden Ground. This program was produced for broadcast by Edward Haber.
